The President and Ben-Aharon

VR. Ben-Aharon's decision to rescind his resignation as Secretary-General of the Histadrut saves the Labour Party and the Histadrut the internal difficulties and bitterness that would have followed his stepping down. With a year and a half before the next elections, the Labour Party does not wish now to confront the problem of selecting new men for its top positions. Mr. Ben-Aharon said yester-day he made no conditions, and returns to his post with no new promises or increased authority. What may have been achieved in the tumult is some better understanding between him and the Prime Minister. Yet major tests still lie ahead as other sectors of the working force undertake their wage negotiations, and the firmness of whatever understanding has been schieved will become apparent only in the weeks ahead.

Since it was clear that Mr. Ben-Aharon would probably return to his post, President Shazar's action yesterday in calling in Mr. Ben-Aharon to persuade him to return was a tactical error as well as an act of political indiscretion.

The President and his advisers must have been well aware that certain elements in the Knesset and nation at large welcomed Mr. Ben-Aharon's resignation. By appearing to seek persuade the Secretary-Generai to return, the President per-mitted himself to adopt a wholly partisan stance not in keeping with his representative position. Moreover, he did so with regard to an institution - the Histadrut - which does not enter into the province of the Pres-ident's representative state role.

> Wallace shooting

THE attempt to assassinate Governor George Wallace sets the stage for a U.S. presi-dential campaign overshadowed by the threat of further political violence. But it is unlikely to cause significant changes in the race for the Democratic presiden-Tial nomination. The shooting shows that presi-dential candidates cannot hide;

Ben-Aharon takes back resignation

By AARON SITTNER, Jerusalem Post Reporter Yitzhak Ben-Aharon last night withdrew his resignation as Secretary-General of the Histadrat.

Facing TV cameras and newsmen at a hastily-convened press conference at Beit Agron in Jerusalem, Mr. Ben-Aharon declared: "I have bowed to the wishes of the Labour movement and have decided to continue carrying out the duties assigned to me by the working

U.S. delegation spokesman Ste-phen Ledogar said, "We have re-ceived no indication that the other side have any serious intention to negotiate on matters of substance." The condition set by the U.S. for resumption, when it suspended the conference on May 4, was proof from the Communists that they were willing to get down to negotiation instead of the exchanges of pre-pared statements which have been the feature of the more than three years of meetings here. After four years which saw a de-escalation of violence in Americs's public life, the shots fired at George Wallace raise again the communal agonies and fears of 1965. They undermine further the confidence of the electorate in the political process and increase the sense of helplessness which over-took the U.S. in the 'sixtles.

Politically, the shooting could help President Nixon in his camneip rresident witch in the cam-paign for re-election to the White House, and it may well end any ingering possibility that Senator lingering possibility that Senator Edward Kennedy could be drafted as the Democratic Party's presi-dential choice. It will certainly mean a renewed emphasis on law and order, and possibly gun control, in the presidential and congres-closed compasions sional campaigns.

In the short term, the shooting will probably assure victory for Wallace in the Maryland and Wattace in the maryland and Michigan primary elections. Al-ready favoured to win in both states, Wallace is likely to benefit from a strong sympathy President Nixon could be the chief political beneficiary of the violence in two ways: first, the shooting makes R almost certain that Wallace will not ran as a third party candidate, an increasingly remote possibility even before the shooting. This would mean that the President would get most of the Wallace vote in the South against any of the likely Demoagainst any of the likely Demo-crats -- possibly in enough states to clinch victory. Secondly, he is ukely to gain support on the law and order issue, especially if the campaign becomes shriller and more violent

Keep garlic 'atrocities' from Britain

LONDON (UPI). - Lovers of British sausages - known as bangers - want the Govern-ment to ban the import of garlieredolent sausages from European continent.

They say garlic sausages make for traffic jams.

Officials of the Banger Eat-ers' Association amounced their "keep garlic out" campaign at the association's second anniversary banquet at a London hotel on Monday night. The campaign, said Association chairman Buck Yeomans, a London pub-keeper, is in reprisal for a Common Market ban on British SAUSAPES.

As in most countries, the "working" people - factory hands and so on - were the quickest to strike up a conversation, but we had to us, hand signs. Cloth-capped workers in one large railway station cuffet in a country town were creating a hubbub of talk and laughter - at seven in the morning nearly all of them drinking spurits. I joined a table of rum drinkers, and somehow shared in the talk about the great football match between Rumania and Hun-Fary. All Bucharest's 17 hotels booked up days before the 12.54 game, a hotel manager told me.

The effect of these North Vietna mese briefings, in the view of diplo-mats who have read them, seems to imply a wish by Hanoi to dis-play a political flexibility that seem-ingly has not been detected by Washington.

Nixon's proposals

The North Vietnamese briefings have been given to various Communist, Asian and neutral officials in Hanoi, Paris, Moscow and elsewhere according to the informants. which have been termed unacceptable because a cease-fire without a political settlement appeared to Hanoi to be meaningless.

to increase its purchase of prefa-bricated components for other housing, but supplies are not always available. "Israel's builders are getting accustomed to buying doors from Kibbutz Hamadya. But we would like more than that. We want to buy pre-built and pre-painted doors and windows - to get rid of the man with the paint-brush cluttering the place and holding things up," says Tamir. When building becomes capital-intensive, and each construction site is encircled by a whole complex of factories which cost a lot of money to put up, industrial efficiency standards have to be introduced on the site too. Not only must contractors work to exact specifications, they must also conform to precise time schedules. When certain components, due at a certain date and a certain hour, arrive on site, the structure should be exactly ready for them, and the men should be on the spot to mount them. In short, building locations must ope-rate with the split-second accuracy of an engineering plant.

replies: Immediately upon receipt of Dr. Gershon's letter, the Fire Prevention Officer, Mr. Y. Kobi, checked the emergency exits at the Orion Cinema. In one of them, he found some iron bars which, according to the management, were parts of a generator that was being repaired. The management undertook to remove them immediately and did so. I would like to take this oppor-

Jarusalem, May 8. PARKING METERS

To the Editor of The Jerusalem Post Sir, - Since the Central Post Office in Haifa is at a considerable distance from the commercial centre, employees simply refuse to go more than once a day to collect mail. Thus, many employers fetch mail themselves while driving to the of-fice. The Municipality has now put was opening speaker and moderator up a parking meter in front of the Central Post Office. Thus, the job of collecting mail, which is unpleasant and a loss of time, now also involves additional expense. I think the parking meter should be reindustry and business and qualified moved immediately.

W.Z. SALOMON in front of the Central Post Office enables all those who have business to transact there to park for a short time for a minimum fee. Prior to their installation, all available parking space in the immediate ISRAEL GAL-EDD vicinity of the post office was

"Charly" is at best pure science fiction dealing with the story of a retarded young man who is changed into a genius by an unspecified brain operation but soon regresses to his former condition, Nowhere are the problems of treating, rehabiare the problems of treating, reman-litating and accepting the retarded into society seriously dealt with. Quite the opposite, if the intended purpose of "Charly" was to do that then it is a grossly misleading and even harmful film. I doubt whether adult audiences took it seriously, as it is undeniably made for entertainment purposes.

May I respectfully suggest to AKIM that, for next year, they choose the film "A Child is Waiting" starring Burt Lancaster, whose deep involvement with the problem of the retarded spurred him to produce this film knowing it would never be a boxoffice success. It portrays with ac-curacy, sensitivity and depth the conditions and problems of institu-tionalized retarded children, making the point that they should not be relegated to mere custodial care or over-protected. Rather, they should receive professional treatment be which will elicit their maximum, but

ALCOHOLIC FACTOR IN CAR CRASHES

To the Editor of The Jerusalem Post Sir, - In an article in The Post of May 4 reporting the World Health Organization's findings, it was pointed out that "estimates of alcoholic factors in accidents range from one-half to two-thirds of all fatal (car) crashes" in the world. What a horrible commentary on conditions in Israel where this factor is probably negligible. In Israel, "alcoholic factors" should be replaced by "bad manners and stupidity.

Driver gets jail for indecency

The Supreme Court on Sunday dismissed an appeal by a truck driver against a jali sentence imposed for committing an indecent act on a girl hitch-biker, but gave him back his driver's licence on condition that he behave himself in future.

The driver, 27-year-old Yosef Kleiz, had picked up the 18-year-old 'Israeli hoopsters need hitch-hiker while driving north from Ellat in February 1971. After some initial conversation the driver ordered the girl to sit close to him, say-HAIFA - The best thing for Ising he would rape her if she did not raeli basketball would be to send do so. ican Jewish community on these natters

Until the foundation of the Conference, the community spoke with many volces -- generally saying the same thing. But it was difficult for the Israel ambassador to see representatives of all the organizations ... and Byroade in the State Department could not get to see all the Jewish delegations knocking on itis door ... and Dulles once com ed 'I seem to get only Jewish de-legations — and all coming for the same thing - to support Israel" And so, on the initiative of Nahum Goldmann, the whole process was rationalized and one central group established to speak for the overwhelming majority of the various groups and for this reason, domestic affairs - which could lead to in-ternal explosions - were left outside the Conference's scope.

Conference activity

Examples of activities of the Con ference have been: representations to the White House and to Mr. Rogers regarding developments held to be dangerous to Israel (e.g. the Rogers plan, the hijacking crises, arms for Israel, Arab boycott); the situation of oppressed Jews, such as in Synfa, with particular concern for the plight of Soviet Jewry; and other world developments (such as the move by the German government to move from "a special re lationship" to "normalization" in its relations with Israel). The Con-ference has a Negro-Jewish committee, a committee on Church Relations and a Mass Media com-- but again all relate to mittee winning support for Jews outside the U.S. Initiative for action rests with the chairman but policy is the esult of the consensus of opinion among the various presidents. Up to now, a consensus has been achieved on all issues and no organization has threatened to sec de 11 its views were not exactly reflected. One activity of the Conference is to meet with candidates for the U.S. Presidency and sound out their views, so that each member can report back to his own organization with an assessment of the candidate. Before the 1968 elections, both Nixon and Humphrey came to Conference's offices. Nixon looked round at the assembled presidents and commented 'My main ambition at this moment is to belong to your Conference."

Your Captain wishes you a pleasant flight to London.

Before take-off, a BEA flight crew synchronise their watches - taking their time from the Captain.

Which is at it should be. Because the Captain bears ultimate responsibility for everything that happens aboard his plane. The crew take from him, not just the exact time, but their whole standard of service.

So your Captain's job isn't just piloting the plane. It's no less his concern that your seat's comfortable, that your food's well served - and that your departure and arrival are both on time.

After a smooth and speedy check-in, your BEA Trident takes off punctually at 09.25 from Lod airport to London. And you'll be sure that everything on board is just as it should be when you hear your Captain say:

"Ladies and Centlemen, I would like to wish you all a very pleasant flight."

Jerusalem Post Reporte

Customs duties on imported building materials, fixtures and construction equipment will be reduced, the Ministers of Finance, Housing and Commerce and Industry decided at a meeting in Jerusalem earlier this week. The lower rates will be in effect through the end of this year. The Ministers were sitting 45 members of a Ministerial committee on taxation in the field of housing. They were joined at the conference by the Director of Customs and Ex-cise, Mr. David Peled; the Director of the Chemicals and Food Division of the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Dr. Moshe Mandelbaum; and the Economic Adviser to Housing Minister Ze'ev Sharef, Mr. Baruch Tchernyavsky. The customs decreases are designed to promote a steadler flow of building materials into the country and thus hasten completion of vitally needed housing units. At the same time the committee assured local producers that the reductions in the customs rates would not harm their industry, which, they believe, still requires tariff protection. Some of the newly announced customs reductions are as follows: pre-fabricated structures and parts thereof, five per cent customs instead of 25 to 30 per cent; lavatory and kitchen sink basins, 35 per cent instead of 45 per cent; and bathtubs, 40 per cent instead of 45 per

Bill to bring property tax in line with market

Jerusalem Post Knesset Reporter

A controversial amendment to Up to now the property tax was calculated on the basis of its value for rental purposes.

The amendment was recommended by the Asher Committee, and will be implemented over a period of several years. When the Bill is eventually passed, most flats will pay the same tax, while some will ac-tually pay less. Increased taxes will only fail on what the bill terms "luxury apartments." Criticism centred mainly around the fact that owing to the disparity between declared value and selling price, it is virtually impossible to ss the current market value of an apartment.

Dr. Yehuda Ben-Meir (NRP) took the argument one step further and asked why families should in addition to their other problems, have to bear the brunt of galloping inflation on the property market. Mr. Uri Avneri (Ha'olam Hazeh) proposed that all persons who dwell press yesterday how their business in apartments valued at under was mauled by the scissors of II.100,000 be exempt from property tax payments, while Mr. Shimshon Erlich of Gahal wanted to know why owners of flats who were living in their apartments should be asked to pay for the rising value of their flats, when they were not directly profiting from that rise.

Priorities set for school shelters

Jerusalem Post Knesset Reporter

The Chief of Staff, R/A David Elazar, said yesterday that present budgetary realities did not make it possible to build shelters in every school in the country. He was re-porting to a joint Knesset body, made up of representatives of the Education and Interior Committees. R/A Elazar explained that especially sensitive areas were being given priority under a shelter-building programme spread over several years. There were places where pu-blic shelters were being built on school grounds, and in every case, the school shelters served other functions, he noted.

The joint Knesset body was con-sidering a motion of Mr. Shalom Levin (Alignment) referred to it from the plenum.

The House Committee yesterday chose Mr. Ari Ankorion (Alignment) as its Chairman. He replaces Mr. Yisrael Yeshayahu who was last week elected Speaker after serving
